The map shows the layout of the town of Ypsilanti, Michigan, with the town divided into various sections. The map includes a grid of streets and lots, with numbers and coordinates marking each plot. The town is bordered by major roads and landmarks, and the layout is typical of a planned urban area from the 19th century. The map also includes a title and a scale bar, indicating the accuracy and scale of the representation. The town is named Ypsilanti, and the map is a valuable historical document. The town was founded in 1822 and quickly grew into a major center of education and commerce. The map provides a glimpse into the history and development of the town, showing how it has evolved over time.